

STUDIO | VC

FUND III

January 2026

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

TABLE OF CONTEXT

|           |                         |
|-----------|-------------------------|
| 01 | Studio VC Overview      |
| 02 | Studio VC Team          |
| 03 | Fund III                |
| 04 | Fund I & II Performance |
| 05 | Key Learnings           |
| 06 | Appendix                |

STUDIO VC OVERVIEW

“

Studio VC is not just an investor, but a team who deeply understands our product, our market, and our mission. Their insight and expertise as advisors from day 1 elevated our strategy years before leading our seed round, ensuring we continue to transform industries and exceed expectations.”

– Ben Nunez, Co-Founder of Evercoast

- Founded: 2016
- Investment Stage: Late-Stage Seed, Post-product
- Verticals: Fintech, SaaS enabled marketplaces, Pure Play SaaS, Enterprise analytics & AI
- # of Funds: 2
- Portfolio companies: 38
- Capital Deployed: $17.8M
- Exits / Acquisitions: 7
- Fund I: DPI 0.3x / Net TVPI 1.4x
- Fund II: DPI 0.09x / Net TVPI 2.3x

Studio VC seeks technology-driven Founders who are building tools to innovate existing industries. Studio VC becomes their strategic partner, supporting entrepreneurs with business decisions, growth plans and exit pathways.

We are consistently investing ahead of the following top tier firms:

---

COATUE

LEFT
LANE

GS GENERAL
CATALYST

INSIGHT
PARTNERS

FLOODGATE

QED
INVESTORS

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

Studio VC is specifically focused on late-stage seed opportunities. We look for product-focused Technologists with domain expertise and an asymmetrical advantage to win in large and growing markets.

What is Late-Stage Seed?

- Must have a product built and in market or that can be validated in the market within 12 months
- Demonstrable Positive Unit Economics and clear path to profitability
- Has paying customers or solid usage metrics
- Revenue is modest but growing
- Objective is to reach Series A readiness within 12 to 18 months

Why Late-Stage Seed?

- When executed with diversification and discipline, late-seed stage investing has one of the highest potential Sharpe Ratios (Return per unit of risk) of any asset class including later stage Venture Funds
- Target IRRs of 25-25% with strategic downside controls make late-seed an attractive entry point
- Studio VC Fund I & Fund II companies are beating the average Survival Rate of seed-stage businesses by 4x

Estimated Sharpe Ratio by Investment Type

Sharpe Ratio measures return per unit of risk. A ratio of 1.0 means for every unit of risk taken, the investment earns 1 unit of excess return.

Late-Stage Seed is a de-risked entry point (product launched plus revenue) but maintains early-stage upside.

*Original source not identified; similar stylized comparisons are common in industry materials

STUDIO VC ADVANTAGES

Demonstrated Performance

- >80% of the companies in which we invested are still alive and growing
- Total of 2 mergers, 4 acquisitions and 1 public listing
- 2 Unicorns in portfolio

Founders Want to Partner With Us

- We nurture relationships with entrepreneurs well before there is an investment opportunity, proving our value add early on
- Founders seek out Studio VC when there is an opportunity to invest

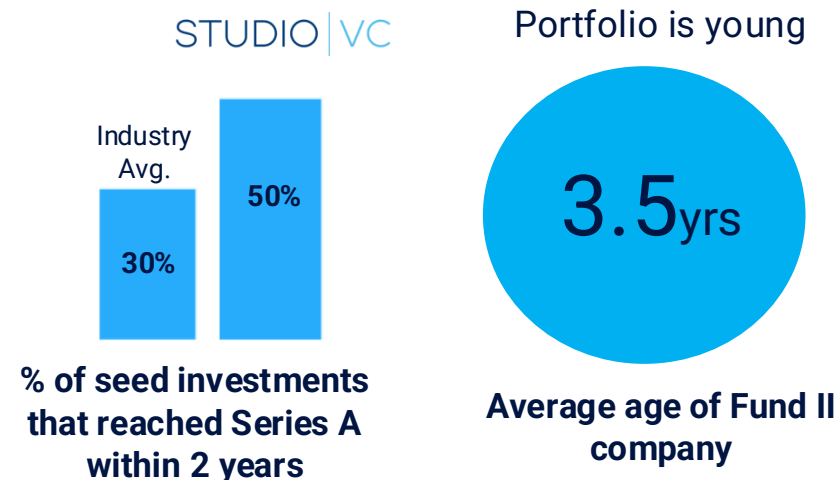

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

Fundraising Success

- Played an active role in securing growth capital, directly connecting over 10 portfolio companies with investors who ultimately participated in their subsequent financings of well over $100M
- Actively initiate and participate in negotiation of term discussions to ensure the best outcomes for Investors and the best pathway forward for the company

Full Lifecycle Partner to Founders

- We build strong relationships with Founders, continuously focusing on strategy and fundraising direction
- We drive alpha through our consistent direct work supporting our founders

Studio VC invested in 38 out of the 40 deals we targeted

TEAM

“From the beginning Studio VC has shown us unwavering support. I truly feel we are more than just partners in business, but more allies in navigating challenges and embracing opportunities that will lead to our shared success. One small example of that was introducing us to Entrepreneur Magazine -- we were featured on their TV show Elevator Pitch, where we won first place and brought Kim Perell on as a Trexity investor. The doors just keep opening with Studio!”

– Alok Ahuja, Co-Founder of Trexity

PARTNERS

The Partners are a complementary combination of a former operator and CEO and a career Venture Capital investor, making them uniquely qualified to evaluate deals and strengthen companies.

Liam Lynch

Co-Founder & Managing Partner

Liam previously served as CEO of Broadway.com, growing it to over $600M in revenue and $30M in EBITDA.

Liam earned in BA from Rhodes College and MBA from Middlebury Institute of International Studies at Monterey.

Middlebury Institute of International Studies at Monterey

Joseph Coyne

Co-Founder & Managing Partner

Joe has deep experience as a career VC, at both Bain Capital Ventures and Samsung Next Venture Capital, investing and advising start-ups to achieve breakout success.

Joe received BBA from University of Wisconsin and MBA from Harvard Business School.

Harvard
Business
School

BainCapital
VENTURES

EXTENDED TEAM

Toby McCoy
Principal

Prior to joining Studio VC, Toby McCoy worked for one of the firm's portfolio companies, Irish Studio LLC, serving as Chief of Staff.

Previously, Toby worked as a Capital Markets and Finance analyst for First Circle, a fintech startup providing financing to SMEs. He has also previously held roles at Harvest Financial Services and Davy.

Kieran Corbett
Senior Associate

Prior to joining Studio VC, Kieran spent over a decade as a proprietary derivatives trader before transitioning into early stage venture investing. He has made multiple angel investments across fintech, SaaS, and cyber security and previously served as a Venture Partner at Geek Ventures.

Kieran holds a degree in Business Information Systems from University College Cork.

Lillian Anselmi
Head of Investor Engagement

Lillian actively assists with Studio VC's due diligence and investor engagement content. She spent seven years on the front lines of tech startups before transitioning to venture investing. In parallel to her work at Studio, she runs the investment strategy for a Family Office.

Prior to her current role, she was the Director of Growth at Modalyst, a fashion technology company.

Violeta Berniczky
Head of Finance & Accounting

Previously, Violeta worked for a Family office as Head of Finance. Violeta has a background in the energy industry, and real estate.

Violeta has a BA in International Trade from the Bucharest University of Economic Studies, Romania, and an MBA in International Finance from St. John's University, New York, USA.

TECHNICAL ADVISORS

Our Technical Advisors assist with diligence through deep analysis of data and product as well as counsel current portfolio companies on technical challenges.

Casey Mott

*Associate Director, Data & AI Security
Oscar Health*

John Canneto

*Senior Product Manager with Data
Management and AI expertise*

James Wall

*Senior ML Data Engineer
Bloomberg*

ADVISORS

The Advisors are a complementary combination of a former operator and a career Venture Capital investors, making them uniquely qualified to evaluate deals and strengthen companies.

Nate Leung

Experienced Investor and Operator in Venture and Growth Companies

Bruce Hack

*Former CEO, Vivendi Games
and Vice Chairman of Activision Blizzard*

Eveline Gerck

*Private Equity/VC Investor
Member of the Board of Directors of Companies and Family Offices.*

Dan Hassett

*Commercial Real Estate
Professional, Active Angel Investor*

Thomas Barry

*Founder of Zephyr Management,
L.P., Previously, President and CEO of Rockefeller & Co.*

Mukul Gulati

CEO of Zephyr Management, L.P.

Brad Kaloupek

*Senior User Interface
Experience Designer*

Jan D'Alessandro

*Founder, Blue J Strategy
Consulting, Former Yahoo
Executive*

FUND III

“Joe consistently delivers thoughtful questions, ideas, and perspectives that help my thinking and strategy. In particular, he never lets his desire to increase Studio's investments in our company dilute the objectivity or neutrality of his input. Joe is building a reputation amongst founders as an investor that will deliver value well above the capital and that reputation earns future participation and referrals.”

– Anthony Habayeb, Co-Founder of Monitaur

FUND III SUMMARY & TERMS

|                                |                                     |                                           |                                            |                                                   |
|--------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| Fund IIITarget Fund | $50MTarget$60M Cap | 25TargetCore Positions     | Late-Seed EntryPointStage  | $750k-$1MAveragefirst-check size |
| 10 yearsTerm        | 20%CarriedInterest   | 2.5%Initial ManagementFees | &gt;4.0TargetGross Multiple | &gt;3.0xTargetNet Multiple         |

Capital Deployment Strategy

- Target Sectors remain Pure Play SaaS, SaaS Enabled Marketplaces, Financial Technology & Enterprise Analytics & AI
- 10-year fund life; Targeting initial investments over first 3 years

Reserve 40% for Follow On Capital

- Increase exposure to top-performing companies
- Maintain ownership stake through pro rata or pro rata plus when available

TARGET SECTORS

Fund III will focus on the same verticals as Fund I & II

Pure Play SaaS

Subscription as a Service, typically B2B businesses with recurring revenue model.

SaaS enabled Marketplaces

Subscription software to build and manage businesses with a marketplace for transactions.

FinTech and Enterprise Analytics

Technology products created to improve and automate traditional forms of finance.

AI

Every company we back harnesses AI to amplify their performance and operational efficiency. We don't silo AI—it's an integral layer woven through every vertical in which we invest.

PERFORMANCE FUND I & II

“

Jack and I met the Studio VC team during a trip to NYC just as Covid was starting. Luckily, the team immediately understood our vision, dug in deep on diligence, and moved quickly to become our first institutional investor. Their commitment ensured we were well-positioned for the astronomic growth that proceeded. We will forever be grateful for their confidence in us early on and their continued belief in our mission to innovate, grow and make a lasting impact.”

– Aiden Corbett, Co-Founder of Wayflyer

|                                                                                        |                             |                                                  |                         |                     |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|-------------------------|---------------------|
| Fund I2016 Vintage                                                          | $4.5MFund Size  | 14 (fully deployed)Invested Companies | 1.4xNet TVPI | 0.3xDPI  |
| Fund I Seed2016 Vintage<small>Excludes Growth-Stage Investment*</small> | $1.56MFund Size | 13 (fully deployed)Invested Companies | 3.3XNet TVPI | 0.09xDPI |
| Fund II2019 Vintage                                                         | $15MFund Size   | 24Invested Companies                  | 2.3xNet TVPI | 0.09xDPI |

Fund I

- Average multiple = 4.9x
- 8 of our companies have successfully raised capital at higher valuations with name brand firms such as QED
- Commonstock was acquired by Yahoo finance, which is 90% owned by Apollo (APO)
- Bark raised capital at a $220M valuation representing a 13.2x mark up from Studio VC's initial investment

Fund II

- Wayflyer (portfolio company) is valued at over $1.6B in latest financing round
- Studio VC sold a portion of its ownership to an interested buyer at a valuation of 43x our seed round entry valuation.
- There have been 2 exits to public companies: StreetCred to SNAP and Kambr to AMADY
- Inspiren raised at $385M valuation, representing a 15.2x mark up of Studio VC's ownership in just over two years

Collectively, Fund I & II companies are currently valued at over $3.0B

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

*Fund I Seed excludes Quanergy, a company in which Studio VC had an unusually large allocation in a Series B+, in order to present a more representative view of the portfolio.

FUND I & II PERFORMANCE | TOP HOLDINGS

| Portfolio Company                                                                   | Fund    | Sector                   | Investment Date | Investment                                       | Valuation at the time of Studio's original investment vs. valuation based on most recent financing | Current Multiple of Money |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|--------------------------|-----------------|--------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|
|    | Fund I  | Pure Play SaaS           | January 2017    | $100k                                           | Entry Valuation: $5MCurrent Valuation: $80M                                                  | 12.9x                     |
|    | Fund I  | Pure Play SaaS           | August 2017     | $100k                                           | Entry Valuation: $5MCurrent Valuation: $350M                                                 | 21.0x                     |
|    | Fund II | FinTech                  | April 2020      | Total of $1.7M($300k; $36k, $365k; $1M) | Entry Valuation: $16MCurrent Valuation: $1.6B                                                | 6.7x                      |
|    | Fund II | SaaS enabled marketplace | September 2019  | Total of $300k($250k; $50)                | Entry Valuation: $10MCurrent Valuation: $50M                                                 | 4.4x                      |
|    | Fund II | Pure Play SaaS           | September 2023  | Total of $400K                                  | Entry Valuation: $12MCurrent Valuation: $385M                                                | 15.2x                     |
|  | Fund II | Pure Play SaaS           | March 2022      | Total of $700k($500k; $200k)              | Entry Valuation: $8.7MCurrent Valuation: $50M                                                | 5.7x                      |

Wayflyer is an analytics platform providing financing for ecommerce businesses with revenue-based repayments.

WHY STUDIO INVESTED:

Exceptional Team:

Multi-time Founders;
Deep Analytics Expertise

Attractive Business model:

The analytics tool is provided for free to all ecommerce platforms. After collecting and analyzing performance metrics across different sales channels, Wayflyer suggests a digital ad deployment strategy and will finance it through a loan.

2020

- Studio VC meets Jack and Aiden right before Covid lockdown and makes its initial investment into their Seed Round @15M valuation, Led by QED Ventures
- Wayflyer Advances $50M to ecommerce business in its first year in business

2021

- Wayflyer completes Series A of $76M led by LeftLane; Studio Participates
- Raise $100M in debt financing
- Wayflyer advances $500M in loans in 2021

2022

- Studio VC helps orchestrates Series B funding by connecting Wayflyer to Madrone who contributes >$40M alongside leads, DST Global and QED
- The Series B financing valued Wayflyer at $1.6B
- Secures $300M in debt capital from JP Morgan

2023

- Secures $1 Billion in capital from Neuberger Berman in an “off balance sheet program”
- Wayflyer has onboarded over 3,000 customers and deployed over $2B in loans to customers

2024

- Company continues to scale, setting monthly records in lending
- Planned expansion to inventory financing for DTC eCommerce Clients
- Studio VC sold a portion of its ownership in Wayflyer to realize gains at a 43x multiple on our seed entry valuation and return money to LPs

Aiden Corbett

CEO, Co-Founder

Evercoast provides industry leading capture, rendering, and streaming of 3D volumetric video for use in virtual production, mobile augmented reality, virtual reality.

WHY STUDIO INVESTED:

Exceptional Team:

Multi-time Founders with deep expertise producing extraordinarily sophisticated technology and product with clear GTM

Generative AI Training:

Evercoast is building the worlds largest data set of 3D Video for generative AI training

Ben Nunez

CEO, Co-Founder (Shown in Ukraine, with President Zelensky)

2016

- Studio VC begins building relationship with Founder Ben Nunez, years ahead of creating an investment opportunity
- Studio VC team actively advises Evercoast as they build version 1.0 of their technology and go-to-market strategy

2022

- Following Studio VCs advice and guidance, Evercoast raises it's first round of external financing, led by Studio VC
- Secures clients such as Verizon, Comcast, WarnerMedia and NYU

2023

- Secured multi-million $ contract to capture the 2024 Paris Olympics through their volumetric technology
- Studio VC advises CEO on separation negotiation with early Co-Founder and acquires additional ownership at a significant discount

2024

- Studio VC advises Evercoast on the negotiation and acquisition of a competitor in a stock and cash deal, generating $500K in new ARR

Allstar is a software company that enables gamers to instantly capture live gameplay, personalize, and share their greatest AI-curated highlights across social media.

WHY STUDIO INVESTED:

Massive Market Opportunity:

AllStar is capitalizing on an already engaged audience of gamers; Founder is a former professional gamer and deeply understands user pain points.

Product is highly scalable with target market of more than 3 billion gamers worldwide.

Nick Cuomo

CEO, Co-Founder

2021

- Studio VC Advisor, Bruce Hack (Former CEO, Vivendi Games and Vice Chairman of Activision Blizzard) introduces AllStar Opportunity
- Co-Investment led by NY Angels, along with Mark Cuban ($250K Committed)

2022

- Studio VC team along with Advisor, Bruce Hack advise AllStar on partner-driven user acquisition, leading to massive early adoption and CAC improvement

2023

- Raised $10m Series A funding from Drive Capital, with Studio VC participation
- Studio helps guide All Star through contentious dispute with competitor.

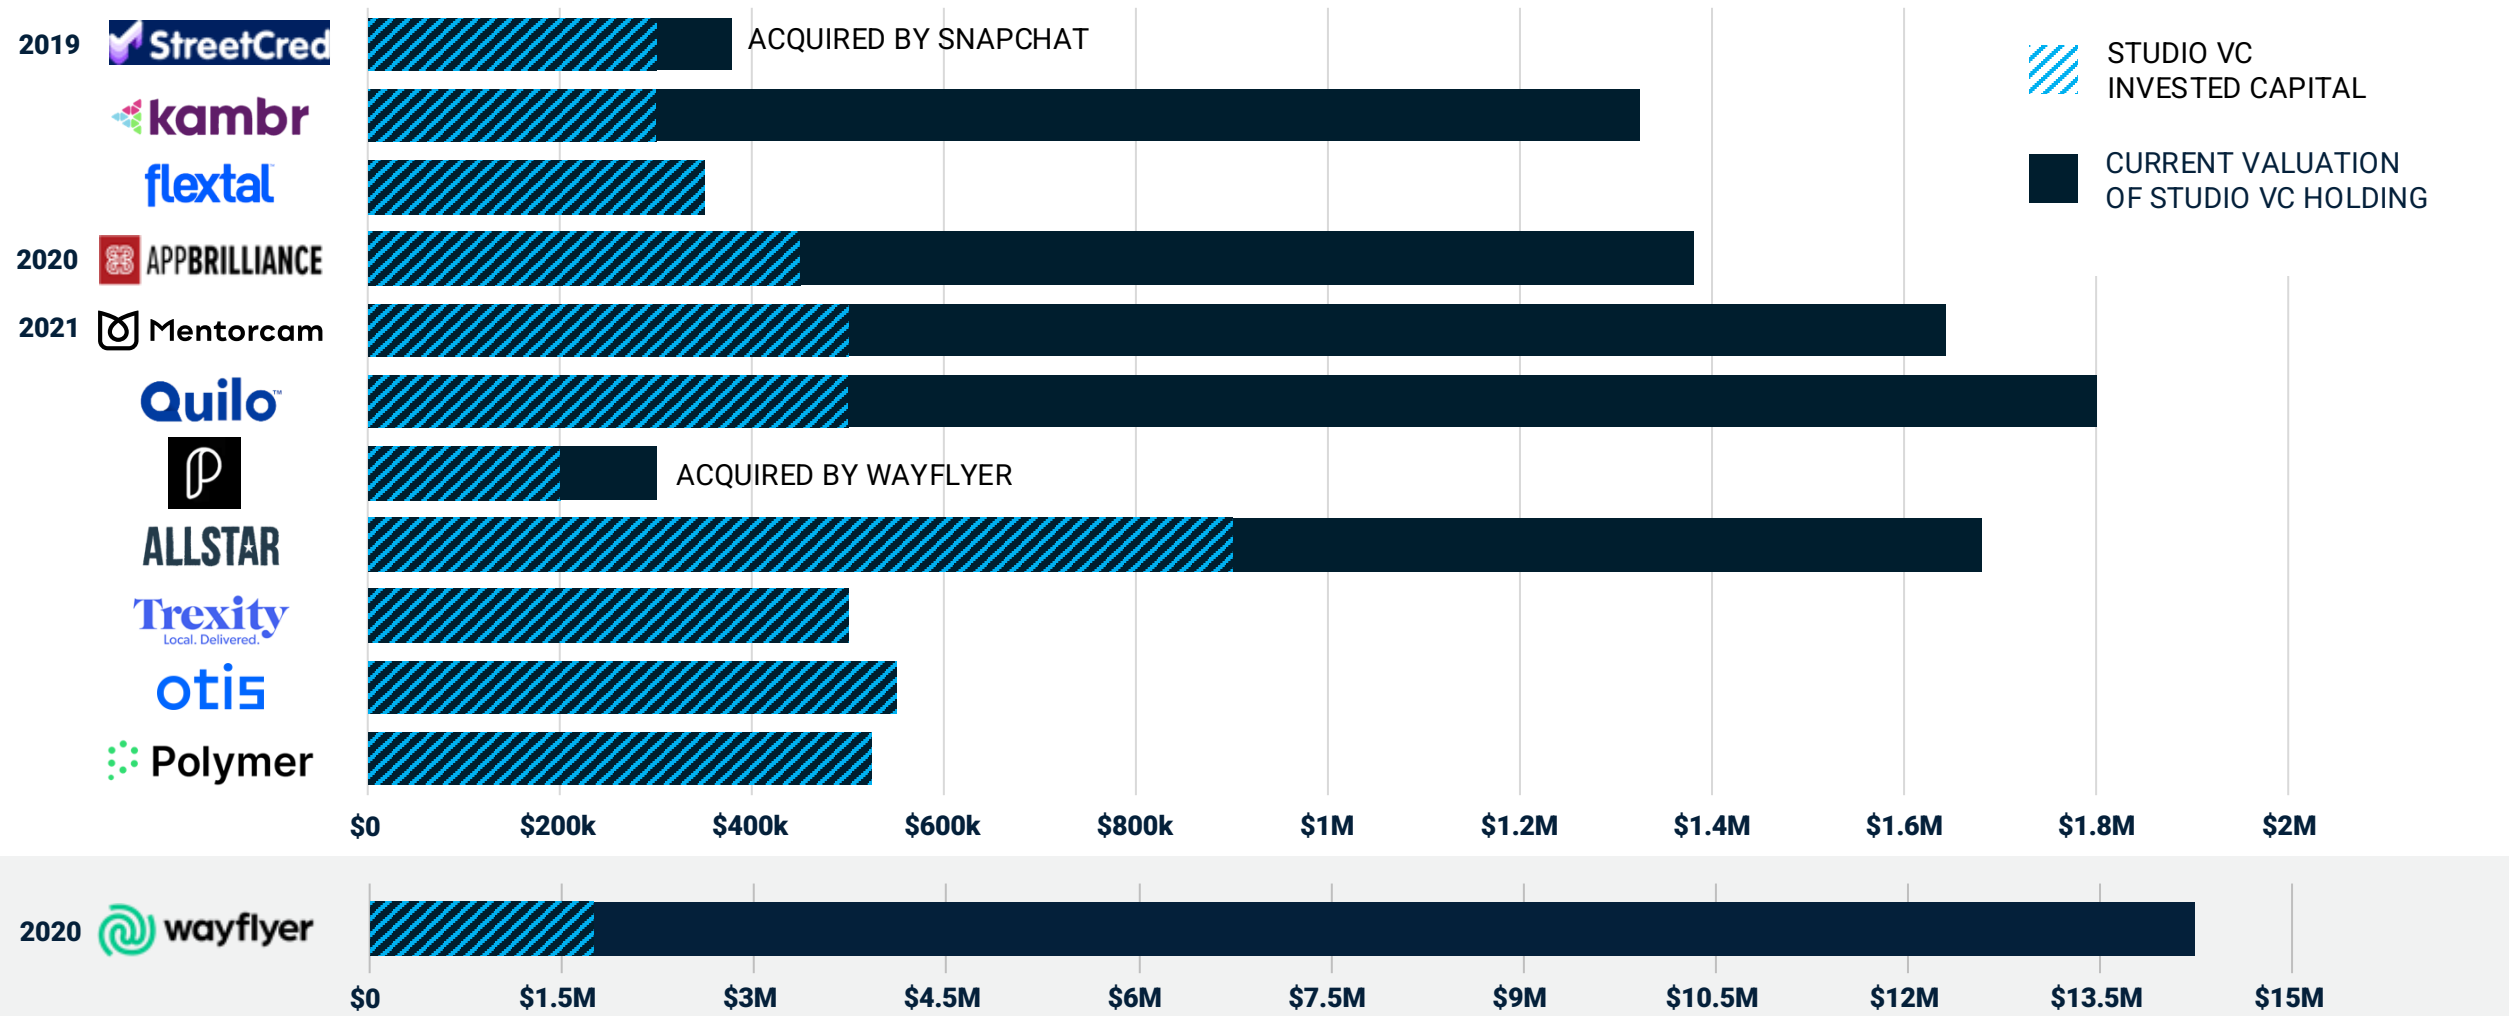

2024

- 263M views in the last 12 months.

FUND II INVESTMENTS MADE IN 2021 AND EARLIER

KEY LEARNINGS

---

Insights Driving our Next Fund

Backing our winners isn't just smart – it's essential to maximizing our returns

Example: bark 🐕

- Studio VC's original investment of $100k at a $5M cap, gave us 2% ownership
- Had Studio VC participated pro rata through subsequent financings, our 2% ownership would be worth $7M today

Take Away

- Studio VC will reserve 40% of fund capital for follow-on investments in our highest-conviction companies—ensuring we maximize ownership and value in top performers.

Late-Stage Seed Stage is Studio VC's sweet spot

Example: @seva

- Seva showcased compelling technology—but had no revenue or product–market fit.
- Seva merged with another company, yielding no return for Studio VC

Take Away

- Studio VC will exclusively invest in late seed stage, where a product has already demonstrated market traction

THANK YOU.

Joseph Coyne: jcoyne@studio.vc | Liam Lynch: liam@studio.vc

APPENDIX

---

References

---

Brian Bason, CEO of Bark

Aiden Corbett, Co-Founder of Wayflyer

Michael Glick, Founder of Coherence AI

Bruce Hack, Former CEO of Vivendi Games / Vice Chairman of Activision Blizzard

Ben Nunez, Co-Founder and CEO, Evercoast

STUDIO VC FUND II

| Portfolio Company                                                                                                                                                                                            | Description                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Investment Date | First Investment; Follow-on Investment | Valuation at the time of Studio's original investment vs. valuation based on most recent financing* | Current Multiple on Money |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|----------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|
|  StreetCred                                                                                                          | A platform for collecting location data by incentivizing users to share points of interest data that large global companies license on an annual basis                                                                    | September 2019  | $300k                                 | Entry Valuation: $11MCurrent Valuation: Sold to $SNAP                                         | 1.3xEXITED            |
|  kambr                                                                                                               | A SaaS Solution to help airline profitability through better cross-silo data management decisions.                                                                                                                        | September 2019  | $250k; $50k                          | Entry Valuation: $10MCurrent Valuation: $50M                                                  | 4.4xEXITED            |
|  flectal                                                                                                             | A platform matching vetted, flexible talent with businesses looking for industry expertise. Companies can hire individuals or teams, on-demand, precisely when they are in need of consulting projects, or on-going work. | December 2019   | $250k; $50k; $50k                   | Entry Valuation: $6MCurrent Valuation: $6M                                                    | 1.0x                      |
|  APPBRILLIANCE                                                                                                       | A technology that powers real-time, non-custodial open payments and banking services. Their API enables businesses to bypass 75% of their payment processing costs.                                                       | April 2020      | $250k; $200k                         | Entry Valuation: $15MCurrent Valuation: $46M                                                  | 3.1x                      |
|  wayflyer                                                                                                          | Analytics platform providing financing for ecommerce businesses with revenue-based repayments.                                                                                                                            | April 2020      | $300k; $36k; $364k; $1M            | Entry Valuation: $16MCurrent Valuation: $1.6B                                                 | 6.7x                      |
|  sidepilot Mentorcam | Mentorcam pivoted and rebranded to Sidepilot, a SaaS and AI company focused on gym and wellness customer management, leveraging agentic AI                                                                                | January 2021    | $250k; $250k                         | Entry Valuation: $7MCurrent Valuation: $23M                                                   | 3.3x                      |

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

**Several companies have not raised additional capital since Studio's investment, so we have valued them at cost.

STUDIO VC FUND II

| Portfolio Company                                                                   | Description                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Investment Date | First Investment; Follow-on Investment | Valuation at the time of Studio's original investment vs. valuation based on most recent financing* | Current Multiple on Money |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|----------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|
|    | A media company helping influencers monetize their audience by housing social media stars together to create content. Advertisers pay for spotlights. The company however, has recently pivoted.                             | March 2021      | $200k                                 | Entry Valuation: $8MCurrent Valuation: $12M                                                   | 1.5xEXITED            |
|    | Software enabling Community Financial Institutions to offer instant loans to customers.                                                                                                                                      | March 2021      | $300k; $200k                         | Entry Valuation: $25MCurrent Valuation: $66M                                                  | 3.6x                      |
|    | A software company that enables gamers to capture, personalize, and share their greatest gaming moments across social media.                                                                                                 | April 2020      | $250k; $400k; $250k                 | Entry Valuation: $12.3MCurrent Valuation: $50M                                                | 2.8x                      |
|    | Trexity is a logistics technology for on-demand, same-day delivery services for online and brick and mortar businesses. Through the Trexity platform, merchants can schedule and manage deliveries to their local customers. | November 2021   | $500k; $200k                         | Entry Valuation: $18MCurrent Valuation: $18M                                                  | 1.0x                      |
|  | An AI powered mobile and web app that helps businesses launch data-driven ad campaigns on Facebook, Instagram and Google in minutes.                                                                                         | November 2021   | $350k; $200k                         | Entry Valuation: $10MCurrent Valuation: $20M                                                  | 2.0x                      |
|  | Real time risk observability and auto-remediation of sensitive data leaking from 3rd party SaaS platforms such as Slack, Google Drive, Zendesk etc                                                                           | December 2021   | $400k; $125k                         | Entry Valuation: $13.5MCurrent Valuation: 13.5M                                                | 1.0x                      |

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

**Several companies have not raised additional capital since Studio's investment, so we have valued them at cost.

STUDIO VC FUND II

| Portfolio Company                                                                   | Description                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Investment Date | Investment     | Valuation at the time of Studio's original investment vs. valuation based on most recent financing* | Current Multiple on Money |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|----------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|
|    | Evercoast provides industry leading capture, rendering, and streaming of high-quality, cost-effective 3D volumetric video for use in virtual production, mobile augmented reality, virtual reality, and the growing metaverse. | March 2022      | $500K; $200k | Entry Valuation: $8.75MCurrent Valuation: $50M                                                | 5.7x                      |
|    | Because Intelligence is a software that automates custom messaging and product offerings on ecommerce sites to increase sales.                                                                                                 | April 2022      | $400k         | Entry Valuation: $15MCurrent Valuation: $15M                                                  | 1.0x                      |
|    | Plum is a vacation home co-ownership platform that facilitates the process of a group buying and managing a property.                                                                                                          | April 2022      | $400k         | Entry Valuation: $9.5MCurrent Valuation: $9.5M                                                | 1.0x                      |
|    | Klearly is a decision support system for revenue teams that utilizes and organizes data to reveal the truth of what really drives growth.                                                                                      | May 2022        | $400k         | Entry Valuation: $15.5MCurrent Valuation: $0                                                  | 0.0x                      |
|   | FanRally is a ticketless membership platform that empowers teams to sell subscription seat reservation privileges instead of ticket bundles                                                                                    | June 2022       | $400k; $48k  | Entry Valuation: $20MCurrent Valuation: $20M                                                  | 1.0x                      |
|  | Coherence AI is a no code platform for strategic analytics and decision making. Coherence offers an end-to-end solution to simplify the process of unifying and synthesizing data.                                             | September 2022  | $550k         | Entry Valuation: $20MCurrent Valuation: $20M                                                  | 1.0x                      |

STUDIO VC FUND II

| Portfolio Company                                                                               | Description                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Investment Date | Investment | Valuation at the time of Studio's original investment vs. valuation based on most recent financing* | Current Multiple on Money |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|
|  MONITAUR      | Monitaur is a platform that helps guide and govern AI systems to provide risk-mitigation and actionable insights                                                                                                                                                                                                      | December 2022   | $400k     | Entry Valuation: $16.9MCurrent Valuation: $40M                                                | 2.4x                      |
|  Bionic Health | Bionic is an AI powered assistant for medical professionals, combining the latest in longevity medicine, frequent comprehensive diagnostics, and cutting-edge machine learning to deliver the best possible diagnosis and treatments for patients.                                                                    | February 2023   | $400k     | Entry Valuation: $15MCurrent Valuation: $15M                                                  | 1.0x                      |
|  inspiren™     | Inspiren is a healthcare technology company that specializes in using AI-powered solutions to improve outcomes and facility operations. The flagship product, AUGi, is a singular hybrid sensing device that uses AI to capture data on the resident's environment and alert caregivers in real time to safety risks. | September 2023  | $400K     | Entry Valuation: $12MCurrent Valuation: $385M                                                 | 15.2x                     |
|  orita       | Orita uses machine learning to optimize and manage email lists to help DTC brands be more effective in their email marketing strategies.                                                                                                                                                                              | June 2024       | $400k     | Entry Valuation: $19MCurrent Valuation: $19M                                                  | 1.0x                      |
|  Knownwell   | Knownwell is an AI platform offering instant, unbiased insights into client portfolio's health for smarter decision-making.                                                                                                                                                                                           | September 2024  | $300k     | Entry Valuation: $20MCurrent Valuation: $20M                                                  | 1.0x                      |
|  acre        | Acre is an alternative way to own a home that is neither renting nor taking out a mortgage. Acre will purchase the home on behalf of the customer, and the customer will buy 5% of the home with the "value share" which allows for them to participate in the appreciation of the property without a mortgage.       | November 2024   | $400k     | Entry Valuation: $16MCurrent Valuation: $16M                                                  | 1.0x                      |

STUDIO VC FUND I

| Portfolio Company                                                                   | Description                                                                                                                                                                   | Investment Date | Investment                                         | Valuation at the time of Studio's original investment vs. valuation based on most recent financing | Current Multiple on Money |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|----------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|
|    | Streams live fitness classes from coaches and trainers in the fitness industry. Its classes consist of a mix of fitness workouts, nutrition segments, and motivational talks. | 2015            | $100k                                             | Entry Valuation: $3MCurrent Valuation: $500k                                                 | 0.2xEXITED            |
|    | Diversified media and technology services company, comprised of digital media assets and technology solution provider                                                         | June 2016       | $150k                                             | Entry Valuation: $6.8MCurrent Valuation: $6.8M                                               | 1.0x                      |
|    | Produces LiDAR Software and Hardware to enable autonomous driving, crowd management and security applications                                                                 | June 2016       | $1.8M(Original principal of $2.8M sold down) | Entry Valuation: $500MCurrent Valuation: $0                                                  | 0.0x                      |
|    | Collateralized lending company that provides fast and accessible short-term loans to borrowers.                                                                               | June 2016       | $100k                                             | Entry Valuation: $2.5MCurrent Valuation: $0                                                  | 0.0x                      |
|    | An event marketing platform that supports live, virtual and hybrid formats. Tools include design and content management system integration                                    | July 2016       | $200k                                             | Entry Valuation: $28.5MCurrent Valuation: $100M                                              | 2.2x                      |
|  | A marketplace to facilitate long-term apartment rentals.                                                                                                                      | August 2016     | $100k                                             | Entry Valuation: $8MCurrent Valuation: $0                                                    | 0.0x                      |
|  | An investing platform for individuals to trade listed stocks and cryptocurrencies, share knowledge and create a community of trusted and transparent content.                 | November 2016   | $100k                                             | Entry Valuation: $5MCurrent Valuation: $30M                                                  | 7.5x                      |

STUDIO VC FUND I

| Portfolio Company                                                                   | Description                                                                                                                                                               | Investment Date | Investment | Valuation at the time of Studio's original investment vs. valuation based on most recent financing | Current Multiple on Money |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|
|    | A Mobile Virtual Network Operator (MVNO) for customers who never want to overpay for cell coverage again.                                                                 | January 2017    | $100k     | Entry Valuation: $5MCurrent Valuation: $80M                                                  | 12.9x                     |
|    | A bus rideshare for communities connecting with their passions. Book a ride and spread the word, trips are confirmed wherever there's enough demand.                      | March 2017      | $150K     | Entry Valuation: $10MCurrent Valuation: $60M                                                 | 1.8x                      |
|    | Pregnancy, baby and toddler products designed by doctors, engineers and parents.                                                                                          | July 2017       | $100k     | Entry Valuation: $8.75MCurrent Valuation: $16M                                               | 1.8x                      |
|    | An app that monitors texts, videos, emails and 30+ social networks to ensure the cyber safety of children and give parents and schools peace of mind.                     | August 2017     | $100k     | Entry Valuation: $5MCurrent Valuation: $350M                                                 | 21.0x                     |
|  | SaaS-enabled marketplace solution to help airlines buy, sell, and repair all their aircraft parts.                                                                        | February 2018   | $150k     | Entry Valuation: $12MCurrent Valuation: $36M                                                 | 2.3x                      |
|  | A tool that makes knowledge instantly discoverable to your teams by unifying information that lives across web platforms like Google Drive, Box, Dropbox, Jira and Slack. | February 2018   | $125k     | Entry Valuation: $4MCurrent Valuation: $0                                                    | 0.0x                      |
|  | Voice AI Assistant for software development teams                                                                                                                         | June 2018       | $100k     | Entry Valuation: $6MCurrent Valuation: $0                                                    | 0.0x                      |